Existing World Arms Census Is West Idea

By TOM OCHILTREE
GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers today proposed a world-wide census of existing armed forces and weapons as a first step toward a disarmament treaty.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch made the suggestion on behalf of the five Western delegations at another closed session of the 10-nation disarmament conference.

He said the control of any agreed disarmament measures would be an illusion without full information on the size and strength of existing armed forces.

Echoing the West's most insistent demand, Moch said adequate control and inspection to insure compliance must be an integral part of any disarmament agreement.

He declared that one of the first and most urgent tasks before the conference is to agree that an inspection system would not be regarded as an espionage operation, a charge repeatedly made by the Soviet Union.

Moch said that if control provisions in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for disarmament over a four-year period were really sincere, they may indicate a first step toward East-West understanding on this subject.

From Moscow, however, Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, made clear that the Soviet government has not abandoned its basic opposition to the Western demand that a control system be worked out before the major powers agree to disarm.

In a leading editorial and a dispatch from its correspondent at the Geneva conference, the paper insisted on approval of Khrushchev's plan for "total and general disarmament."

Moch told the conference controls are necessary because no disarmament agreement could rule out the possibility of secret violations.

He listed three essentials for the starting point of any control system:

1. The system must have means to verify the size and striking power of the nations' armed forces before beginning on any agreed reductions.

2. The system must be ready to operate simultaneously with any agreed disarmament measure.

3. An international force of inspectors must be in place in all countries from the start of any disarmament agreement to supervise missile launching sites, arms depots and stocks of fissionable materials.

Snow Ends in Most Areas, Rains Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow ended in most of the storm-swept sections in the eastern half of the country today and heavy rains tapered off in drenched areas of central Florida.

The fourth major snowstorm of the month, which hit wide areas from the Plains to Virginia, appeared dying out. Only light snow fell in northern New England and snow flurries were reported in the Great Lakes region and upper Ohio Valley.

In Florida, thunderstorms rumbled from the water-soaked central section east and southeast toward the lower East Coast area. Tornado winds were reported earlier in the south end of Edgemont Key, at the entrance to Tampa Bay, and at Yankelown, about 70 miles north of Tampa. No injuries were reported.

Scores of families in the rain belt have been forced from their homes by flood waters. Rainfall in Tampa in the last 24 hours was 3.33 inches and measured 2.64 in Jacksonville.

It was a little chilly in many areas but no severe cold weather was reported.

Zoo's Giraffe Weather Victim
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock zoo's first giraffe is a weather victim.

The $4,750 animal, gift of a Little Rock businessman, can't be shipped here from Cincinnati until the weather stabilizes.

Zoo Director Raymond Squires said there is danger of sore throat, pneumonia and shipping fever. Squires said the giraffe probably couldn't be shipped until around April 1.

The animal Little Rock bought is about 12 feet tall and weighs about 400 pounds. It will grow to 16 to 20 feet tall.

Squires said he didn't know what method the shipper would use to keep the giraffe's head down to minimize the danger of low underpasses and utility lines during the trip.

Plane Crash That Took 63 Lives Under Probe
By DORMAN CORDELL
TELL CITY, Ind. (AP)—Investigators today picked up bits of human flesh and scraps of metal to try to find why a Northwest Airlines plane exploded and then crashed Thursday, killing all 63 aboard.

"It's obvious the plane came apart in the air," said Ed Slattery, Civil Aeronautics Board information officer. "We will go through all the possibilities, including a bomb."

Eight federal investigators concentrated their ground search around a still-smoking crater where the main part of the turbo-prop plane's wreckage plunged 25 feet deep.

The huge hole was dug in a five-acre field on a hill farm a mile north of the Ohio River.

CAB pathologists started trying to identify victims.

The tail assembly of the plane was found in rough hill country a

3-Way Crash Leaves One Person Hurt

Two cars and a truck collided here today at Third and Laurel Streets, resulting in injury to one person and heavy property damage.

According to City Police a Yellow Cab driven by E. T. Martindale pulled onto Highway 67 and was hit by a Nehi Bottling truck driven by Robert G. Strang of Stamps. The impact slammed the cab into another car driven by Dunn A. Martin of Little Rock.

A passenger in the cab, Tennie Young, Negro resident of 900 S. Walker, suffered a possible shoulder fracture. She was rushed to a local hospital by an Oakcrest ambulance.

Officers Fullerton and Shirley charged the Taxicab driver with hazardous driving following an investigation.

Arkansan's Body Washed Ashore
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A body which washed ashore here last week has been identified as that of an Arkansas man.

Police said the man was Benjie D. Moss, 19, of Rison, a crew member on the shrimp boat South-er Pride. The boat has not been heard from since it sailed from Freeport, Tex., March 9. Two other crewmen were aboard.

Moss' body washed ashore on a West Matagorda Bay beach.

Rescue Frestquist, 47, said he was leaving because of poor health. But it appeared his financial policies were just too moderate for Castro. His leaving seemed likely to clear more ground for Guevara policies.

Cuba Military Aid Quits Lashes Castro

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Cuba's top military representative here has resigned, branding Fidel Castro a betrayer of the Cuban revolution and saying he is ruling under a Communist style dictatorship.

Lt. Cmdr. Miguel Pons fired charge after charge against the Cuban leader Thursday in an emotional speech during a closed-door Inter-American Defense Board meeting of 21 republics.

Pons called his speech a message to the people of Cuba and said they "should know once and for all that Fidelismo is a mask behind which hides International Communism." He said the real brains behind the Havana government is Maj. Ernesto Guevara, leftist head of Cuba's National Bank.

The Cuban embassy promptly called Pons, Cuban naval attaché, a deserter and said his charges were "traitorous allegations." It said he had been suspected of activities contrary to the revolution "as well as of collecting money surreptitiously."

Pons' resignation came just about the time Finance Minister Rulo Lopez Frequent announced in Havana he was leaving Castro's cabinet. Many observers considered him the Castro regime's last remaining advocate of close Cuban-American cooperation.

Lopez Frequent, 47, said he was resigning because of poor health. But it appeared his financial policies were just too moderate for Castro. His leaving seemed likely to clear more ground for Guevara policies.

Cost U.S. $10 Million to Up Sales $4 Million

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government hopes that by spending about 10 million dollars to promote exports it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

President Eisenhower announced the government-wide export promotion program Thursday, and asked the support of Congress in providing a supplemental appropriation to get the program rolling in the year starting July 1.

Undersecretary of Commerce Philip A. Ray, head of the inter-agency task force which is organizing the drive, told reporters the initial request probably will be only about five million dollars.

But when the campaign gains full momentum, he said, the cost may run 10 to 12 million dollars a year, largely to increase the staffs of the Commerce and Agriculture departments and to more than double the number of commercial attaches of American embassies.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about 2½ billion dollars in 1960 over the total foreign sales for 1959.

"It is hoped, Ray said, that the promotion effort will provide an additional 10 to 20 per cent increase in annual sales, thereby adding roughly two to four billion dollars a year to the nation's foreign trade volume.

Imports are expected to increase also, Ray said, but at a slower rate. The net result should be a significant decrease in the size of the deficit in international payments, which amounted to $3,700,000,000 last year.

Administration Goes Against South's Idea to Limit Referee Plan

Pioneer V Past Million Mile Mark

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V passed the million-mile mark today in its race toward an orbit around the sun. Its voice, a high steady tone like a radio time signal — came back loud and clear over that vast distance.

It was the farthest by far that mankind has sent an intelligible signal — and Pioneer is expected to keep up its flow of space data back to earth for many more millions of miles.

The passing of the million-mile mark was celebrated with appropriate ceremony at the Washington headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The time was 2 a. m. Eastern Standard; the scene, a small auditorium a block from the White House, cluttered with Klieg lights and movie cameras.

Just before the contact was established with Pioneer a rushing noise—like a great waterfall—came over the loudspeakers in the room. This was the sound of space, the radio signals of the stars. Scientists call it cosmic noise.

Then the clear, electronic tone of the satellite took to human ears, it sounded continuous, with only a slight interruptive blip now and then. Actually, the radio a million miles away was sending back seven different kinds of information.

With a Los Angeles NASA station giving the orders, Hawaii sent the signal to turn on the satellite's radio.

Nadler Fails as a Census Taker

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Teddy Nadler, TV quiz show winner, is humiliated by his failure to pass an examination for prospective census takers and "I'm just going to lay low, that's all."

The unemployed memory expert plunked a 11,830-foot mountain peak in Tibet and identified Jersey and Sark as islands while piling up $264,000 in quiz show winnings. But he couldn't find his way through a map-reading test that made up the second half of the examination Thursday.

The former government clerk tripped up on interpreting symbols for various types of buildings and judging distances.

"That's not geography at all. I couldn't even see half the maps. They were a new phase of work for me," he said.

Wants Rights Bill to Include State Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration threw its weight today against the southern-sponsored idea of limiting powers of proposed federal voting referees to federal elections.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said that if state elections were exempted from such a civil rights law "it would be an open invitation for the establishment of segregated elections for state officials, thus denying Negroes their clear constitutional right to vote without discrimination in such elections."

Rogers set out this view in a letter to Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio) who is leading the battle in the House for the administration's civil rights program. The letter was made public at the Justice Department.

Rogers said that if the 15th Amendment, guaranteeing the right to vote without discrimination, is not to be enforced it should be removed from the Constitution. He added:

"It would be sheer sanctimony... to enact legislation which, by failing to enforce the right, clearly implied that Negro voting need not be a reality in state elections."

McCulloch had asked for an expression from Rogers because southerners have prepared a proposed amendment to the House civil rights bill to limit jurisdiction of federal voting referees to elections of federal officers.

Such an amendment has not yet been formally introduced. But a battle over this idea is one of the obstacles between the House and final action on a civil rights bill.

It is one of the reasons that House leaders, who once hoped to pass a bill this week, are now talking instead of next Wednesday as a target date for final action.

And senators who had indicated that they would pass next week the House bill they had expected to have by now made no effort to speed up consideration of their own bill on the subject.

Both houses were tied up on details of the administration's proposal for court-appointed referees to guarantee the voting rights of Negroes and other minority groups who say they can't vote because of racial discrimination.

Attempts were being made from both sides to substitute different systems and to change the details of the administration plan.

The Senate started consideration of that section after voting criminal penalties for interstate transportation of any explosive intended for bombing public or private buildings.

It was adopted 85-1, with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen voting "no" because, he said, the Senate was straying far afield from civil rights.

Department Store
Sales Show Dip
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported today that department store sales in the 8th Federal Reserve district showed sizeable decreases during the week ended March 12 from levels of a year ago.

The bank said inclement weather and an early Easter last year were contributing factors.

The district as a whole slumped 3 per cent. The Louisville area showed the biggest individual drop of 37 per cent. St. Louis was next, down 24 per cent, while Memphis dropped 17 per cent, Little Rock 16 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities were down 11 per cent.

Bible Comment

HOW WE GOT THE BIBLE
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The supreme importance of the Bible is that those who read it should find the salvation it proclaims in God's love and grace, that they attain the character and follow the way of life it inculcates, that they emulate Jesus in service and humility, and heed the two great commandments of love to God and the love of man for one another.

Knowledge of the Bible may be as nothing, if it does not bring to us its deepest message and teachings and we fail to follow them.

But when that is recognized there is a great deal concerning the Bible that is important to know. A proper knowledge of the Bible; the history of how its many books came to be written would have averted much of its misuse. Theories that have done much to divert the Bible from its true purpose of saving, instructing and inspiring would have been avoided.

It is this that gives importance to the finest books concerning the Bible that I have ever come across. "The Bible in the Making," by Dr. Geddes MacGregor, a Scottish minister now lecturing in American colleges, is not primarily a book of interpretation, though this is in its background. It is "the story of the Bible as a book, its composition, translation, and dissemination," the story of how the Bible has come down to us and the problems and controversies associated with its history.

It is a book that I should wish to see in every library and where cheap paper backs are available by the millions, I wish that this book, and many other fine religious books were equally available.

Why do I think such knowledge of the Bible is so important? It is because dogmatic and often dominating theories about the Bible tend to obstruct the freedom in thought and life that proper knowledge and use of the Bible would promote.

The Bible reveals the freedom with which those who wrote it sought to know and express the truth concerning God and life. Yet many would set up the Bible as a barrier, instead of a help, to the freedom of earnest men to day.

A great question is whether the Bible is a closed book, or a book that opens up the way to further inquiry and freedom. That God spoke to men in the past, if we believe at all in the eternal God, ought to be the strongest assurance that God speaks to men today and will always speak to men who earnestly seek to hear.

I think a dominant question is: whether the Bible is a book of the exact codes or a book of teachings and principles. When we speak of "the authority of the Bible" what do we mean? In recent elaborate discussions concerning capital punishment writers take strongly contrived viewpoints, but all apparently agree that the issue should be settled by Bible authority.

Appeal to Bible teaching is surely relevant and important, but would that Bible teaching suggest approach to such a problem in the Twentieth Century with all the freedoms that Bible writers originally displayed?

Should not the problems of humanity and the administration of justice in the world of today be determined only by the fullest possible inquiry into all the facts and situations? Is not that what the Bible itself would demand?

It is only one of many matters in which the use or misuse of the Bible is a real issue. The Bible, as a book of salvation, is a great speak of "the authority of the

Blind Girl Awarded

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Blind, 17-year-old Theresa Hayes will receive Philadelphia's first medal of honor for heroically remaining at her telephone switchboard to warn others during a fire at the Overbrook School for the Blind.

More than 300 pupils were evacuated safely but one fireman was killed in the blaze last week.

The medal of honor was created by a city ordinance in 1954 but up until now the award committee had found no one deserving of the high honor.

Powerful Blast

PARIS (AP) — France's atomic blast in the Sahara Feb. 13 was at least three times more powerful than the first U. S. atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, but the government says it caused no fallout danger to inhabited areas. The government announced Wednesday the power of the explosion equaled between 60,000 and 70,000 tons of TNT. The World War II Hiroshima blast equaled 20,000 tons of TNT.

Wants Rights Continuation of Sitdowns in South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Negro sit-down demonstrations continued to troop through the jails and courts of the South today, but showed no signs of forsaking the lunch counter battlefield.

Negro spectators marched straight from the trial of five demonstrators at Little Rock, Ark., to enter downtown stores in a new series of protests against segregation.

In two other cities swift action averted near riots, but before blows were struck in one incident.

A group of white men and youths used their fists on a Negro college student leaving a St. Augustine, Fla., variety store after staging a sit-down protest. Police Chief Virgil Stuart held off a crowd of white persons with a riot gun loaded with tear gas while other officers hustled the Negroes into a taxi which sped them away. The crowd quickly broke up.

Hundreds of whites and Negroes stood on opposite sides of a Savannah, Ga., street and hurled insults at each other during a St. Patrick's Day parade. But police dispersed the jeering mob before any blows could be struck.

There were new arrests at New Bern, N.C., where 29 Negroes were jailed on trespassing charges and released under $25 bonds after refusing to leave lunch counters at two stores.

The Little Rock demonstrators were not arrested. Managers of the five stores invaded closed their lunch counters and the Negroes left. The five tried in municipal court for a demonstration a week ago drew $250 fines and 30-day jail sentences. Their attorney said there would be an appeal.

DOROTHY DIX

Faithless Husband Breaking Wife's Heart

Dear Dorothy Dix: One day I called on my husband at his office. He was making love to an employee when I walked in. Now I am becoming a nervous wreck. I've done a good job of home-making, prepared my husband's favorite foods, kept myself and five children well-trimmed and tried to look cheerful. Was it worth the time and trouble?

I want to keep our home together until our children can take care of themselves, but feel as though I should walk out. What do you advise — Love-Hungry Mother.

Dear Love-Hungry Mother: Yours is certainly a heartbreaking, if it weren't for the children, I would say separate. A friend of mine found herself in a similar situation. She, too, had children and because of them, stayed on. From a gay, rather superficial person, she has developed into a compassionate, understanding human being, beloved by all — even her husband. The tragedy is that the love he now seeks from her is gone. He destroyed it!

Dear Dorothy Dix: Can you help me? My grandfather, 85, now lives alone at a hotel for retired people in Miami Beach, Fla. He is lonely and finds it difficult to make friends, but he is intelligent, talented and fairly energetic.

Can you supply me with addresses of any of the following:

1. A golden age club.
2. Any other club for people in his age group. He likes to talk about politics and history.
3. A painting or art class suitable for him.
4. Afterart lessons.
5. He was, until about 10 years ago, a professional customer, and might be interested in an agency which sells homemade goods such as aprons, if such a thing exists. I will be thankful for any suggestions. — Mrs. L. K.

Dear Mrs. L. K.: I am publishing your letter in the hope that readers may have suggestions to offer. I've also enlisted the help of friends in Florida. You'll be hearing from me shortly. Your grandfather sounds like a wonderful person.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I had my eye on a girl but never got the nerve to ask for a date. It was love at first sight. I saw the girl Sunday night. She had on an engagement ring. It sure hurt me to look at the ring on her finger — wishing that it was mine.

What do you suggest I do? Pretend I do not care or what? I see the girl every day. We work in the same building. — T. W. A.

Dear T. W. A.: Paint heart ne'er won fair lady. I'm sending you my leaflet, "The Way to a

Wants Gambling at Spa Stopped

HOPE SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutors Walter J. Hebert has been asked to move against organized gambling here.

Hebert said yesterday a group of more than 30 ministers and laymen had approached him about the matter.

The prosecutor said he told the group that warrants would have to be obtained from a court before he could act.

Hebert noted that gambling operations had been investigated by various grand juries and that in July recently recommended an increase in an amusement tax levied on gambling in Garland County.

Want to Aid State Development Group

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Fulton County school superintendents want to help the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, but they want to be sure it's legal first.

The superintendents voted yesterday to conduct a labor survey along with their annual school census. If Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled they can do so under the law, Bennett was asked by letter for an opinion.

Conway Supt. Hays Gibson said it was felt the opinion was needed because the labor survey will add to the cost of the census. If they do not poll available labor, census takers need to stop only at homes which have school age children. Every house will have to be contacted in a labor survey.

The AIDC has recommended and the state Board of Education has approved the "Joint Labor School Surveys."

Common County Farm Scene

Middle-buster furrows were not extended into drainage ditch. In the case, had the furrows been extended 10 feet further the field would have drained perfectly.
In constructing drainage ditches, the spoils removed from the ditch should be spread thin over the field to allow the water from the field to enter the ditch. When the spoils are piled along the shoulder of the ditch the use of the ditch is minimized. Drainage ditch shoulders and ditch bottoms should be kept clear of brush and weeds. It is good to have them sodded with grass to prevent washing.
Water standing on the land over long periods of time stop soil bacteria actively, cause the land to remain cold, does not allow early planting and sometimes prevents planting until it is too late for crops to mature.
If you have this type of problem you should be making your plans now to correct it. Of course it is too wet now to make the correction but while the water is standing on the land is a good time to see what is blocking the drainage. If you need help to plan the drainage please contact your soil conservation district.

that's what you get with modern concrete!

Concrete has always far outlasted other types of pavements—by 2 to 1, in many state highway systems. Today's concrete roads will do even better!
Important advances in concrete pavement design make it possible for engineers to give you an expected fifty years and more of superb driving pleasure from every mile of modern concrete highway!
For one thing, this is continuous-laid concrete... with only tiny joints sawed into the pavement. You can't hear or feel them. No thumps. You get the smoothest, quietest ride you've ever had.
And to make this new smoothness permanent, there is "air entrainment." Billions of tiny air bubbles are trapped in the concrete to prevent any surface roughening from severe weather or the chemical action of de-icing materials.
Specially designed, granular subbases strengthen and support the pavement—keep it flat and smooth-riding for life.
In every state in the nation, highway engineers are using one or more of these new ideas to give the public safer, smooth-riding roads. If you're interested in your roads, write for a free new booklet on modern highways.

Bradley, Providence in NIT Tourney Finals

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley's top-seeded Braves and upstart Providence meet Saturday afternoon for the championship of a National Invitation Basketball Tournament marred by fears of a druging incident.

Sophomore Chet Walker, high-scoring 6-7 star of Bradley, remained under treatment today after becoming ill after drinking a glass of orange juice Thursday. It was delivered to his hotel room by a stranger in a red uniform shortly before the Braves beat St. Bonaventure 82-71 Thursday night.

Providence, unseeded in the tournament, joined Bradley in the final with a 68-62 victory over second-seeded Utah State in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Analysis of a sample of the juice was to be made today by police, who were called into the case after Walker and roommate Al Saunders reported the incident to Coach Chuck Orsborn. A detective said he was inclined to think the incident was a harmless prank. Orsborn said Walker sometimes has a nervous stomach before a game "but nothing before like this."

Although nauseous and weak, Walker played 23 minutes and scored 27 points for Bradley, including five in a row that put away the victory in the closing minutes. Then, "feeling weak and tired," he was put to bed at the hotel.

"For a boy as sick as he was, I thought Walker played a wonderful game," said Orsborn. "He Owens played very well too and did a wonderful job of punctuating St. Bonaventure's half-court press."

Bradley came from 12 points behind with eight minutes left for a 57-55 regular season victory over Providence at their home court in Peoria, Ill., on Dec. 14.

Providence Coach Joe Mullany said Thursday night "If we hope to win we're going to have to lift our entire game. We made too mistakes against Utah State. We won because we got the breaks toward the end."

Len Wilkens, Johnny Egan and points, Egan 16 and Hadnot 10.

U. S. Remembers Latin's Left Hook

NEW YORK (AP)—Argentina's Eduardo (KO) Lausca hasn't fought in the United States in four years but almost everyone in the boxing business still remembers his terrific left hook.

That punch, plus a current victory streak of 14, has made the South American middleweight champion a 9-5 favorite to beat rugged Willie Groves, the Canadian ruler, in their 10-round tele vision (NBC 10 p.m., EST) fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Groves, a husky, 24-year-old blond from Edmonton, has won his last four fights. He isn't a bit awed by the punching reputation of his 32-year-old rival.

If the fight goes the limit, the decision will be decided by the rounds system of scoring. A supplementary point system also is used to help break draws.

Drug Scare Mars NIT Cage Meet

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Was it a drug in a glass of orange juice or just a nervous stomach that caused Bradley basketball star Chet Walker to feel ill during Thursday night's semifinal game in the National Invitation Tournament?

Police scheduled laboratory tests today to find out.

Walker, who scored 27 points in a part-time performance helping the Braves to an 82-71 victory over St. Bonaventure, drank a glass of the juice in his hotel room an hour or so before the game. It was given him by a person later found to be impersonating a room service employee.

Al Saunders, Walker's teammate, also was given a glass of the juice, but did not drink it. He became suspicious when he learned it was supposed to have about 100 miles off the coast. The delphin, meet the Warriors in the second night in Boston in the second Orsborn. Saunders checked with his coach who promptly notified him stayed aloft 65 hours.

Don't Knock Rock, Cry Baseball Fans

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Don't knock The Rock."

That was the battle cry of Colavito fans during Rocky's off-season salary wrangling with Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane. The Indians' GM apparently got the word because Rocky received a salary increase of 25 percent to $35,000.

But Colavito was reportedly offered $40,000 and he grudgingly accepted the lesser amount.

Now it's the Rock whose doing the knocking. And with the same big but that hit 42 home runs last year to share the American League crown with Harmon Killebrew of Washington.

At Tucson Thursday Colavito homered for two runs in the sixth inning as the Indians came from behind for a 4-3 spring training victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It was Rocky's fourth homer in five games.

In the other Arizona game, at Scottsdale, the San Francisco Giants scored three times in the eighth to hand the Boston Red Sox their first loss in five spring games, 4-3.

Rain slashed a six-game Florida schedule to two with the Chicago White Sox beating Washington 1-0 at Orlando and Kansas City edging Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings at Miami.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vanguard 1, the smallest and second oldest of the satellites whirling about the earth, marks its second anniversary today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration estimated the distance traveled at the rate was designed to keep it occupied of about 18,000 miles an hour—at 283,495,400 miles at 7:15 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, exactly two years after the March 17, 1958, launching at Cape Canaveral.

The Communist radio said he is trying to present the May summit conference an accomplished fact.

Upper Women's Bracket Stronger Competition to Be Tough for All Star Team

By TED MEIER
AP Basketball Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — There should be tough competition next year for berths on basketball's Little All-American. Four seniors and a junior were named to the 1960 Little All-American by The Associated Press Thursday, leaving the 1961 field wide open.

Mary Baehmeler, the junior from North Dakota State, promises to be a repenter in 1961. But no one can say who will replace Ed Smallwood of Evansville's NCAA champions, Charles Sharp of Southwest Texas' NAIA champions, Willie Jones of American University and Bobby Williams of St. Joseph's (Indiana).

Sharp, a 6-6 hookshot artist, is the only repenter this year from the 1959 Little All-American. He was voted the most valuable player of the National Junior College basketball tournament last night. The Southwest Boleto to the title. Cameron will meet Parsons Smallwood, at 6-4 the second tallest player on the first team, was named Tyler (Tex) in the semi-finals tonight.

Arkansas State had a 35-22 half-time lead but Cameron slapped on a full-court press and caught up at 37-31 in 7½ minutes. The press demoralized all the Arkansans except Sam Parker, who tallied 27 points, 18 of them in the second half.

Ladon Radford made 18 and Carl Cabiness 17 for Cameron. Parsons stalled the last five minutes in defeating Grand View College of Des Moines 69-60.

Cameron in Comeback, Beats State

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Cameron (Okla.) A&M made a sensational second half comeback in defeating Arkansas State of the 1959 Little All-American. ## Lakers Take on Hawks in Pro Playoffs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The hungry Minneapolis Lakers, smelling a playoff upset over the St. Louis Hawks for the second straight year, suddenly find themselves owning the so-called home court edge after stunning the Hawks 120-113 in St. Louis to even the series.

Jim Pollard, Lakers coach, said, "Now we have three more at home. A road victory was what we had to have and now we have it."

The Boston Celtics, seeking to make it two straight over Philadelphia, met the Warriors in the second night in Boston in the second Orsborn. Saunders checked with his coach who promptly notified him stayed aloft 65 hours.

Rockefeller Is Still Listening

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller hasn't quit listening to those who want him to run for the Arkansas governorship.

The chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission said here yesterday he is in the "listening stage" as far as the governor's race is concerned. "If I enter, it probably will be as an independent," Rockefeller said. He added that he has had much encouragement, both by letter and personal contact, to make the race.

The Morrison millionaire is a Republican. Speculation has mounted in recent months that he might run in the general election against the Democratic nominee, Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett have qualified as candidates in the Democratic primary.

near farm field—one of the few level places in rugged hills along the Ohio River, which separates Indiana and Kentucky.

"I heard the explosion after it hit the ground," said a farmer, Cyril Powers. "The concussion nearly knocked me down."

Said another farmer, Theodore Wilson: "The explosion on the ground shook my house. Parts of the fuselage, mail, bodies and debris of all kinds were scattered over the area."

Little was left of the Electra, its passengers and crew.

There was a smoking hole—25 feet deep and 40 feet across—in the snow-covered field.

Five miles away lay a burned wing and two engines.

Shreds of clothing and baggage clung to bare tree limbs.

"We haven't really found anything that you could count a body," said State Trooper Louis Gayer.

The dead included:

The wife and three children of Morris Chaffin of Minneapolis, promoter of the Holiday on Ice show now playing in Paris.

Judge John A. Sharbaro, 70, of the Cook County (Chicago) Superior Court.

Check That Shot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — This bandit gets "shot" every time he passes a bad check.

He shows up at a doctor's office, complains of a cold, and asks for a shot of penicillin.

After it is administered, the patient presents a $10 check neatly made out to him by his "wife."

The bill, with the shot, is $5 or $6, and the man pockets the change. Only trouble is, the check is worthless.

One of the physicians who has been victimized says the cold check artist is "a sort of harmonious little man, just enjoying himself on $4 a day."

"But doctors better watch their penicillin supply!"

Accused Man Ends His Own Life

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—W. D.

Gregory, 59, who was waiting trial on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, was found shot to death at his home here yesterday.

Coroner William Jones said the death was a suicide. Gregory was shot in the chest with a shotgun which was found beside the body.

Gregory's wife found the body when she returned from a shopping trip.

Gregory was charged in the death of Mrs. Mattie DeLong, 62, who was struck by Gregory's car Feb. 17 as she left the Crossett Clinic where her husband, Fred, 68, had just died.

Mrs. DeLong died Feb. 20 in a Little Rock Hospital.

The DeLongs were parents of State Police Lt. Melvin DeLong of Little Rock.

Rogers to Ignore Alford's Letter

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. William Rogers says he will not reply to a letter from Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.), who demanded that Rogers refrain from linking Little Rock with civil rights matters.

Alford wrote Rogers Wednesday and released the letter to the press while it was en route to the attorney general's office.

Luther Houston, Rogers' press secretary, said the attorney general had a policy against answering letters which were given to the press before he had a chance to answer.

Alford said Rogers had no right to use the name of Little Rock in connection with civil rights legislation.

Carole Tregoff Released on Bail
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tears of joy streamed down Carole Tregoff's pretty face when she heard the news: She can go free on $25,000 bail.

The red-haired co-defendant in the Finch murder case started the 162nd day behind bars today as her family made financial arrangements to secure her release.

Carole, 23 and Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, her surgeon sweetheart, are accused of murdering Finch's wife, Barbara Jean, 36, last July 18. Their first trial, which lasted three months, ended in a deadlocked jury.

Judge John G. Barnes Thursday set May 23 as the date their second trial will start. After Barnes approved bail for Carole, Finch rushed to her side and exclaimed: "I'm so happy for you, Carole!"

However, the judge rejected Dr. Finch's request for bail and denied Carole's plea for a separate trial.

Barnes didn't explain why bail was granted Carole and denied Finch.

Washington Wall Street Differ a Bit

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street and official Washington have been taking different views on how well off we are and on our chances for more prosperity.

At least that's how it looks at first glance. Wall Street doubts show up in the stock price dip. Official predictions in Washington continue to stress the prospect of pleasant months ahead for most of us.

But in election years most people take a second glance at both statistics and predictions and at any nervous ups and downs in the stock market.

This is a year in which the economy can be—and is—interpreted with an eye on the party conventions and the November elections. And it's a year in which public reaction, either to statistics and predictions or the stock market, gets the closest attention.

The truth may lie in Wall Street's swing toward caution, or in the calming talk along the Potomac. It might even lie in between—there is plenty of precedent for that.

Here are the opposite views as they look at first glance:

President Eisenhower says, "The outlook for American business is indeed good."

The chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, Raymond J. Saulnier, tells the House Appropriations Committee: "In my judgment, economic developments are a good bit more favorable than one would gather from some of the current appraisals of our economy."

The appraisals to which he refers have come mainly from New York—a city known for its quick changes in sentiment, from economic enthusiasm to business caution.

Some of the statements are by industrialists who have toned down the exuberant views they held on New Year's Eve.

But the appraisal that catches the public's eye is the course of stock prices. And since the first of the year it's been mostly down, broken now and then by comforting rallies.

This brings up the old debate: Is the stock market a barometer of good times or bad times on the way? Those who think it is could believe that late spring and summer will see a general slowdown. Of contrary mind are those who can cite occasions when the stock market seemed to predict one thing and the general economy went the other way.

These observers think what is happening in the stock market is more of an adjustment to reality than a prediction of the future. They note that this isn't the first time that stock prices soared so high and had to be hauled back to earth to the pain of those who had guessed wrong.

The President notes that some of the industrial and business goals set around New Year's Eve were "rather bold." His own advisers have always counseled a moderate target.

Arabs Demonstrate

LONDON (AP)—Crowds of Arab students shouting anti-Israeli slogans paraded at London airport today as Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion arrived for three days of talks with British leaders. Police hustled the demonstrators out of the way. A huge banner with "Israel is armed to the teeth" in foothigh letters was torn apart in the tussle.

Chapter 23

Shay's aim was too hasty. Jethro's horse took the bullet. It caught up Shay's gun, then moved and picked up Bokker's. "Now you'll find out about Pawnee City law."

"They would have killed Shay," Bokker protested.

"Sure, sure," Trow said easily. "Last night you and him ganged up on this one," indicating Jethro, "and today you crowded the other one." He nodded toward Templeton's body. "What did you expect them to do Buy you a horse and buggy?"

Huntley, the prosecuting attorney, strode forward. "Lock them up, Marshal," he snapped. "I'll sign the complaint against them."

"You heard him," Trow said, pointing toward the jail. "Let's get going."

"I'll say my piece to the judge," Shay promised.

Bokker and Shay marched to the jail with the marshal and his deputy crowding on their heels. In the marshal's office, Trow opened a door leading to the jail proper.

This consisted of two cells, with a narrow aisle between them. In one of the cells a drunken cowboy lay on the floor in a stupor. Trow opened the door of the other cell.

"Make yourselves at home," he said. "They had been in jail no more than a half hour when Fletcher Trow came in from his office. "You're getting a quick trial," he said.

"Now, that's more like it!" cried Paul Shay.

"Is it?" sneered Trow. "It may mean a quick hanging."

Judge Paisley already sat behind his "bench," a table on a raised platform. He was in his fifties, a severe-looking man. Bokker hoped that the brief description he had received of him from the sign painter was an accurate one, for a quick glance around the room showed him only impassive, or hostile faces.

The judge looked only briefly at Shay, but his eyes came to rest upon Bokker. "You're an attorney, I understand."

"Yes, Your Honor."

"You'll act as counsel for yourself as well as your fellow prisoner?"

"If the court permits."

"I see no objection. Prosecutor, will you read the charge?"

Huntley came forward. "The prisoners who call themselves Paul Shay and Philip Bokker, are charged with the murder of Jed Jethro and Charles Templeton."

The judge looked at Bokker. "How do you plead?"

"Not guilty, Your Honor."

"Mr. Bokker, you understand, of course, that you are entitled to a jury trial."

"If I please the court, we will waive a jury."

Shay looked at Bokker worriedly.

Judge Paisley said, "Will the prosecution call its first witness?"

"Deputy Marshal Chaffee!" announced Huntley.

The deputy marshal came forward and was sworn in by the marshal, who apparently doubted as bailiff.

"All right, Marshal," Huntley began. "Tell the court what you saw last night at the hotel."

Chaffee seated himself on a chair beside the judge's desk. He fixed his eyes on Phil Bokker. "The defendants got into a fight with the deceased, Jed Jethro. When I came up, Bokker had his gun in the victim's back and his partner, Shay, was threatening Jethro. They'd probably have killed him then and there if I hadn't happened to—"

"Objection, Your Honor!" exclaimed Bokker.

"Objection sustained," said the judge. "You, the witness, cannot

Quiz Winner Broke

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Teddy Nadler flunked a written examination for prospective census takers today.

The chunky former clerk who won $204,000 on television quiz shows fidgeted and fretted through a map-reading and vocabulary test along with about 50 other applicants.

Only Wednesday Nadler denied his finances had anything to do with his trying for the $13-a-day job.

"I'm not broke and I'm not wealthy," he said. "My finances are nobody's business but mine."

Nadler requested Jack W. Traverser Jr., regional director of the Bureau of the Census not to reveal his grade.

Angry With Everybody

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Waller Conroy is angry with everybody at City Hall today because they would not let him paint a green stripe down Main Street in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

"I met every objection," Conroy said. "I was going to pay for it, paint it when it wouldn't obstruct traffic, use paint that would wash off."

"I'm so mad, yes Irish mad, I don't know what to do. I could take my little machine and paint a stripe in front of the mayor's house," Conroy said.
